Co., 2 for 1; Noco Mexican Oil Company, 20 for 1; Big Ben Oil Company, 1 for 10; Black Petroleum Company, 10 for 1; Loyalty Oil & Gas Company, 10 for 1. The North American Oil Company; capital stock authorized was 2,000,000 shares, no par. The officers and directors in 1923 were as follows: C. F. Colcord, president; Cameron H. Pulley, secretary and director; Bradley McCluskey, treasurer and director; C. F. Webster, director. Offices, 1923. 1104 Commerce Building, Kansas City, Mo., 100 Broadway, New York City. As of November 23, 1922, there were 856,530 shares of the North American Oil Company listed on the New York Stock Exchange and on November 24, 1922, trading in the shares on the Exchange was ordered suspended. An overnight collapse in quotations and a wide difference in quotations on subsidiary stock listed on the New York Curb Market, caused the suspension. The records show that on Nevember 23, 1922, there were 1600 shares sold on the New York Stock Exchange at from $32 5-8 to $29 and that on November 24, 1922, stock was offered first at $28 and later as low as $10, with no bids. In May, 1927, it was reported that the Appellate Division reversed May 6, 1927, the conviction of William A. Foster, a stock promoter. He was found guilty of felony in April, 1924, for "rigging" the market in the New York Stock Exchange in November, 1922, for transactions in North American Oil Company stock, which he put on the exchange only one day before the nature of the transactions caused it to be ousted. It was rule that Foster was undoubtedly guilty of "making apparent purchases and sales of stock which were accompanied by no actual change of ownership", but voted for reversal for lack of proof that Foster had anything to do with the actual publication of the fictitious transactions within the meaning of the statute. Last quotations of stock by McDonnell & Co., New York, on April 9, 1927, 39 bid and 39½ offered. Office at 100 Broadway evidently abandoned sometime between 1923 and 1925, as there is no record of it thereafter.

Bebout, assistant secretary and treasurer. Office, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. In 1922 this company together with others merged with the North American Oil Company. Stock of the North American Oil & Refining Corp. was exchangeable for stock of North American Oil Company in the ratio of two shares Oil and Refining for one share North American Oil. About June, 1923, North American Oil & Refining Corp. withdrew from the group and practically all of the stock exchanged for North American Oil was re-exchanged into the hands of the original stockholders. On May 18, 1925, this corporation was placed into the hands of T. J. McMurray, Fort Worth, Texas, as receiver. There is no market for the stock at the present time as far as we can ascertain. The records of Cochise County disclose that the company controlled properties in the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 20, township 15, as well as the Golden Queen, Manzora and Tocea claims. Deed is dated February 25, 1901. On December 1, 1901, company had a surplus of $3,375.10, out of which a dividend of ¾ of 1 per cent. amounting to $3,248.25 was declared. Surplus as of January 1, 1902 was $374.25. Officers and directors were reported as follows: Andrew S. Meloy, president, 1 East 43rd Street, N. Y.; Maurice L. Muhleman, treasurer, 52 Vanderbilt Ave., N. Y.; S. L. Pearce, manager; Ulysses S. Grant, Captain W. H. Palmer, J. W. Plank, L. J. Atwood. We have the following letter from the former president of the company: "I was interested in the Old Terrible Mining Company only during a period of railroad building along the Mexican border and into Mexico. It was one of various properties taken up against the prospect that its value would be improved by the railroad. It was an old property that had made a good showing, and in 1901 was apparently flashing a second period of richness. My opinion is that this second life was only a flash in the pan, and after a year or two of great promises, the ore suddenly pinched to an end. With the completion of my work in southern Arizona and northern Mexico, I ended my interest in all of these properties, and my recollection is that the Old Terrible Mining Company was liquidated after a great deal of money had been wasted trying to find a continuation of the rich ore." In view of the above, we believe the shares of this company to be valueless.

Ontonagon & Brule River Railroad, The. The above company was chartered on September 10, 1880, with an authorized capital stock of $1,000,000 par value $100 with $491,500 paid in. There were no bonds issued on this company. The line of road was still in progress when purchased by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway on October 1, 1890, but upon its completion was to extend 80 miles from Ontonagon to Brule River and connect with the Wisconsin and Michigan Railroad and at this time of completion was to be consolidated with the Milwaukee and Northern Railroad forming a through line from Milwaukee to Wisconsin. The company had land grant of six sections to the mile, within a six mile limit granted by an act of Congress in 1856. Road had been opened to Rockland in 1882 and at the time of purchase by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul the line had extended 46 miles to Saginan, Michigan. The Ontonagon and Brule River Railroad was owned by the Milwaukee and Northern Railroad and in 1884 had entered into contract of consolidation to be materialized on completion of road. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul purchased the Milwaukee and Northern Railroad by exchange of stock share for share but the purchased property was taken over without any guaranty of bonds. Spencer, Charles Ray, Charles F. Pfister, all of Milwaukee, as directors. Principal office and address, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The following is a letter from the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway: Gentlemen: In answer to your letter dated January 3rd will advise that our records show the Ontonagon & Brule River Railroad Company was organized September 9, 1880 and constructed a railroad about forty-six (46) miles in length between Ontonagon and Sidnaw, Michigan. The property of this railroad was conveyed by deed to the Milwaukee & Northern Railroad Company June 20, 1890. On October 1, 1890, a transfer of the Milwaukee & Northern Railroad to the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company was effected. This last mentioned railway went into the hands of receivers on March 18, 1925, and is now in process of reorganization. I am unable to state what became of the Ontonagon & Brule River Railroad Company, but it is my impression that it ceased to do business after the sale of its property to the Milwaukee & Northern Railroad Company and it would therefore seem that stock held by your client has no value. Charter forfeited. Company out of business June 20, 1907.

Pelican Land Company. Incorporated under the laws of the State of Florida about 1925 and is in good standing as far as state records show. Officers are: D. Earl Wilson, president, 127 N. E. 1st St., Miami, Florida; A. J. Mills, 2nd vice-president, same address; E. Lee Hughes, 1st vice-president, Biscayne Bank Bldg., Miami, Fla.; J. L. Criswell, 3rd vice-president, 307 N. E. 1st Avenue, Miami; W. M. Williamson, secretary and treasurer, 200 E. Flagler Street, Miami, Fla. Organized for the purpose of acting as a holding company for one certain tract of land. The stock was issued non-assessable, but at the time of the original subscription the purchasers were aware that there was a big mortgage on the property and that they would be subject to an assessment for carrying charges and principal retirement. The general belief, however, existed among the stockholders at the time this property was purchased, which was during the boom days in Miami, that the property would be sold before any assessment for carrying charges or principal was necessary and for that reason the prospective purchaser would assume payment of these items. This assumption, however, did not happen and the depression came and the second mortgage on this property was foreclosed, eliminating all the equity of the Pelican Land Company in said property. Prior to the mortgage foreclosure, an assessment notice was sent to 35 or 40 some odd stockholders, out of which only 4 or 5 paid their their assessment. The company being unable to meet its mortgage payments returned the assessment checks to the remitting stockholders. Mr. D. Earl Wilson, president of the company, says that the company hasn't any real estate holdings at the present time and that consequently the stock is virtually worthless.

Polo & Clubman Company, Inc. The Polo and Clubman Company, Inc., was organized in the State of New York February 26, 1913, for the purpose of publishing a sporting magazine called the Polo and Clubman magazine, self-styled the "Smartest Sporting Society Paper in America." Several prominent New Yorkers were induced to buy shares of the company at $100 each. Very few of the magazines were sent to subscribers and after several complaints from the subscribers there developed the fact in May, 1915, that the Post Office Department refused to permit the mailing of the publication. It was reported that no application for renewal of the privilege had been received and that the last issue had been mailed out in December, 1914. The firm became bankrupt in 1915. W. A. Hall was president and treasurer of the company; Henry P. Wadsworth of 150 Nassau Street was secretary; Mr. MacNay was reported editor. Mr. Hall seemed to be the instigator of the affair and Mr. Wadsworth said that he knew very little about the company when he became its secretary. Mr. McNay denies any connection with company other than writing for the magazine. The stock is without value.

Poulsen Wireless Corporation. Incorporated Arizona on October 31, 1910. Capital stock: Owned all the capital stock of the Federal Telegraph Company of California. Purpose: To engage in wireless telegraphy. Remarks: The Poulsen Wireless Corporation was the holding company for the Federal Telegraph Company, the operating company. On March 30, 1920, the Poulsen Wireless Company was dissolved. On the same date, the stockholders voted to increase the capital stock of the Federal Telegraph Company from $100,000 to $2,500,000 in shares of $10 par value and to distribute new stock to holders of the Poulsen stock as the ratio of one $10 share for each $100 share of the Poulsen stock, the latter company to be disincorporated. The Federal Brandies, Inc., was organized in 1926 under Delaware laws for merging of the Federal Telegraph Company and the Brandies Products Corporation. Stockholders of the Federal Telegraph then received 360,000 shares of Class A stock in the new company on a share for share basis. In April, 1928, the Federal-Brandies, Inc. changed its name to the Kolster Radio Corporation. We understand from the Kolster Radio Corporation that stock of the Poulsen Wireless Corporation can be exchanged for that of the Kolster Radio Corporation. However, it will first be necessary to exchange the Poulsen stock for stock of the Federal Telegraph Company. This exchange may be accomplished at the California office of the Kolster Radio Corporation at 625 Market Street, San Francisco, California. The exchange of the Federal Telegraph Company for the Kolster Radio may be accomplished in New York City.

Price-Campbell Cotton Picker Corp. Capital stock. The Price-Campbell Cotton Picker Corporation was organized in 1910 to develop the cotton-picking machine invented by Angus Campbell. Practically all the funds raised were subscribed by personal friends of Mr. Price who received stock in the company. The capital raised was spent in experimenting and improving on the machine as originally designed by Mr. Campbell. The company has had no funds in its treasury for ten years or more and the shares have no market value. The company has no assets of value and the only potential value that the shares have is to be found in an agreement entered into with the International Harvester Company some years ago whereby the Harvester Company undertook to attempt to commercialize the machine. This agreement provides that the International Harvester Company shall pay the Price-Campbell Cotton Picker Corporation 10 per cent. of the net profits derived from the manufacture and sale of the cotton-picking machines during the ten years ending January 1, 1938. Thus far, the Harvester Company has not yet put the machine on the market. It has been experimenting with it and re-designing it from time to time. In view of the foregoing, we submit this stock as having no value at the present time.

Quartz Lane Mines, Ltd. At a meeting held on March 30, 1929, of the shareholders it was decided to sell all the assets of the Quartz Lake Mines, Ltd., to Ridgedome Mines, Ltd., in consideration of 581,149 shares of Ridgedome Mines, Ltd. stock, fully paid and non-assessable. The following paragraphs are excerpts from the stockholders' letter dated April 25, 1929: "Regarding the distribution of these 581,149 shares of Ridgedome Mines Limited stock amongst the shareholders of this company, we wish to say that the holders of 1,721,567 shares of this company's stock, who are principally the vendors of the property to this company, have agreed to accept the lesser proportionate distribution by exchanging in one instance seven (7) shares of Quartz Lake Mines Ltd. stock for one (1) share of Ridgedome Mines, Ltd. stock, and in ten instances five (5) shares of Quartz Lake Mines Ltd. stock for one (1) share of Ridgedome Mines Limited stock. This distribution will take up 333,695 shares out of the 581,149 shares received, and the balance, 247,454 shares, will be divided amongst those shareholders of 494,908 shares who purchased stock in this company in the proportion of two (2) shares of Quartz Lake Mines Ltd. stock for one (1) share of Ridgedome Mines Ltd. stock, thereby placing them in a preferred position regarding distribution. Ridgedome Mines Limited will now own the claims formerly held by this company, and intend to develop them if upon further examination it is found advisable to do so, and will also continue the development of their own property. When the exchange of stock, as outlined above, is made, shareholders of this company by their stock holdings in Ridgedome Mines Limited will have an interest in two properties instead of one. There was a strong movement under way to liquidate this company, and if this had taken place, directors believe that shareholders in this company would have lost practically everything, whereas by the above arrangement the shareholders will participate in any successful development of the Ridgedome property and the Quartz Lake property. Shareholders will be advised in due course when and where to send their certificate for exchange."

Ranger Comanche Oil Company of Fort Worth, Texas. A man from Houston, Texas, was promoting this stock in 1921. It was reported in the press at this time that instead of "Playing Safe" and investing money in the Ranger Comanche Oil Company as this man advertised, one might better play safe and hold on to one's money. In 1922 this stock was offered at .04 to .10 with a bid of .02. In 1923 a few shares were offered at market with no bids. This stock was reported to be nothing but a stock selling scheme, which ceased to exist several years ago.

Ranger Consolidated Oil Company. This company was organized in Texas in 1919 with an authorized capital stock of $2,500,000, all common, par value $1. Company had leases in Iron, Eastland and Mills counties, Texas. The officers were last reported in 1921 to be as follows: John M. Spellman, president; Bernard Goodman, vice-president; T. C. Mackay, second vice-president; W. L. Johnson, secretary, with an office at 607 Sumpter Building, Dallas, Texas. Ranger Rubber Company. The Ranger Rubber Company, a change of name from the Akron-Overland Tire Company, a Delaware corporation, was a consolidation of the Akron Tire Company of Long Island City, New York, and the Overland Tire Company of Belleville, New Jersey. Both were building propositions. The first named company was organized in 1910 and taken over by the Delaware corporation in 1919. The Overland Tire Company was incorporated in New Jersey in April, 1917, recapitalized in 1919. The Akron Tire Company was a New York corporation. Suit was brought against the Akron-Overland Tire Company by the Willys Overland Company which objected to the use of the name Overland. It was settled in favor of the Willys Overland, with the result that a change of name was made to the Ranger Rubber Company, a Delaware corporation. Shares of the old company were exchanged for shares of the new, on a share for share basis. The new company was capitalized with 75,000 shares of $10 par, preferred stock, of which 55,000 shares were outstanding and 100,000 shares of no par common stock, all of which is outstanding. The company was engaged in rebuilding tires and the manufacture of rubber balls. There was hardly any chance of the company making any great profit in tire rebuilding, and it seemed that only making rubber balls was not enough to carry on a profitable business, so, on January 23, 1924, the Delaware charter was repealed for non-payment of taxes for two years.

Organized under the laws of New York on October 6, 1917, for the purpose of acquiring the business of the Republic Rubber Company of Youngstown, Ohio, and the Knight Tire and Rubber Company of Canton, Ohio. Capital stock authorized $10,000,000. Preferred par $100 and 250,000 shares of no par value common, increased on November 4, 1918, to $10,000,000 7 per cent. cumulative preferred, $2,500,000 8 per cent. second preferred and 650,000 shares of no par value common. It is reported that in anticipation of prosperous era in about 1919-1920, company contracted for large amounts of raw material, and on February 20, 1920, company again increased authorized common stock from 650,000 shares of no par value common to 1,500,000 shares, no par to finance additional requirements. An unexpected depression ensued, however, and the company found itself burdened with contracts for large quantities of cotton fabrics, rubber and raw materials, which could not be produced profitably at that time, nor sold, the result being that a Receiver was appointed on June 22, 1921. Following the appointment of the Receiver there were authorized by the Federal Court, $1,000,000 Receiver Certificates maturing in July, 1923, and these certificates were sold at par to supply working capital for the Receiver. Under date of March 1, 1923, a Reorganization Plan was submitted which provided in part that the stockholders on payment of $100 cash, receive $100 par in bonds and one share of stock. or $100 par in bonds, $187.50 in Debentures and two shares of stock on payment of $250 cash. This plan was submitted to the stockholders, but their response was not in sufficient number or amount to make the plan feasible. The plan was therefore abandoned. On June 7, 1923, all the assets of the Company were sold by the Receiver acting as special master under appointment of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio, Eastern Division. The proceeds from this sale were not sufficient to pay more than 35 to 40 cents on the dollar to creditors, leaving nothing whatever available for distribution to the stockholders. The Republic Rubber Corporation, common stock was listed on the New York Curb the last sales being on about August 12, 1922, at 55 cents a share. On July 28, 1923, 50 shares of common sold at auction at $5 the lot and on December 8, 1923, certificate of deposit representing 300 shares of common stock sold at auction for $5 the lot. Property was purchased by a newly incorporated company, the capital stock of which is entirely owned by the Lee Rubber & Tire Corporation.

Reynolds-Alaska Development Company. Organized under the laws of Washington in 1903, with authorized capital stock of $1,000,000 6 per cent. cumulative preferred or founders shares and $2,000,000 common or deferred shares, par $1, upon which no dividends have been paid. Bonded debt $500,000 20-year 6 per cent. bonds dated May 1, 1909, of which about $175,000 were issued with the Equitable Trust Company of New York, 11 Broad St., New York, N. Y. trustee. In 1908 company went bankrupt at which time the creditors were paid 33 1/3 cents on the dollar and the company recovered the property. Promoter of the company is reported to have been ousted in 1907, and arrested in April, 1908, on secret indictment returned by Federal Grand Jury in Massachusetts for using the mails to defraud. The property is described as 102 claims, about 2,000 acres of copper property on LaTouche Island, Valdez district, Prince William Sound, Alaska, which has been idle since 1911, since when only annual assessment work has been done. In 1915, the indebtedness was reported to be as follows: Bonds $175,000, accrued interest on bonds $43,200, bills payable $26,800, unpaid salaries $20,000 accrued interest on loans $7,410. The Equitable Trust Company of New York advises that no action has been taken to foreclose the mortgage nor have the bondholders requested that any such proceedings be instituted. The president of the company is Marvin F. Butler, 319 Shubert Building, Kansas City, Mo., and the former secretary and treasurer J. Frank Birdsell. Mr. Birdsell advises that no interest has ever been paid on the bonds, that the property has remained idle for years, and in his opinion the whole proposition is practically at a stand still. Company has paid all license fees up to July 1, 1928, to the Department of State of Washington, and is therefore in good standing with the State authorities, and reports its principal office as Seattle, Washington. Rio Grande Syndicate. Syndicate was formed about 1920 with G. C. Campbell of Albuquerque, New Mexico, as contractor and H. S. Robinson of Baltimore, Maryland, as Syndicate Manager, with a capitalization consisting of 2,000 units (shares) for the purpose of financing, receiving and holding 34,000 acres of oil and gas lease to be located in Bernalillo County, New Mexico. It was understood that 1,000 units were to be offered for sale and for each unit sold, one unit was to be assigned to G. C. Compbell, H. S. Robinson and their associates as compensation for organization, etc. H. S. Robinson was authorized to sell 1,000 units at $100 each to defray expenses in procuring leases, drilling, financing, etc., and was authorized to pay G. C. Campbell $2.00 per acre as each unit was sold and acreage delivered to him, as trustee. G. C. Campbell agreed to start drilling the first well for the Rio Grande Syndicate on or before March 1, 1920 on 1120 acres of leases held by H. S. Robinson, as trustee. The syndicate reported offices at 931 Southern Building, Washington, D. C., 43 Central Savings Bank Building, Baltimore, Maryland, and at 716 Merchants-Laclede Building, St. Louis, Missouri. At the Merchants-Laclede Building at St. Louis, Missouri, it is stated that the H. S. Robinson Co. occupied suite 716 from February 15, 1920, to January 31, 1921, and that they came from Baltimore and are believed to have returned there. The H. S. Robinson Company carried on the business of the Rio Grande Syndicate and is reported to have been one of the many oil concerns which appeared and faded away at that time. The Southern Building Investment Company, managers of the Southern Building at Washington, D. C., claim to have no knowledge of the Rio Grande Syndicate and associates at any time. The Central Savings Bank Building of Baltimore, Maryland, advise that H. S. Robinson died some time during 1925 or 1926. From other sources we learn that G. C. Campbell, who was the operator, has since died. Local people at Albuquerque, New Mexico, who were acquainted with Mr. Campbell when he lived in Albuquerque, advise that the Rio Grande Syndicate is defunct and holders of the units who reside there consider their units of no value. Under these circumstances, we are forced to the conclusion that the promoters are dead and that the syndicate has been defunct for some time and that the units are of absolutely no value.

Rogers Milk Product Company. Incorporated under the laws of New York State about 1919 or previous thereto, and owned the entire common stock of the Rogers Milk Product Corporation, and the Booneville Condensed Milk Company. These two companies owned and operated seven plants in Oswego, Oneida and Chenango Counties of New York State, in the heart of the milk producing district. There were three plants for the manufacture of condensed milk, one cold storage plant and three collection and shipping depots and cheese factory. The corporation was organized in May, 1917, with a capital stock of $30,000. The capital stock of the Rogers Milk Products Company was reported to consist of $3,000,000, divided into $2,000,000 common and $1,000,000 8 per cent. cumulative preferred, both with a par value of $100 each share. E. H. Spence & Company, offered the stock in units of one share of preferred and one share of common at $160 to be paid in full at $50 down and $10 a month. E. H. Spence & Company was organized in Jan. 1919, and when E. H. Spence organized this company, he took in some of his former associates and immediately made use of very intensive selling tactics. At the time there was no criticism of the Spence Company, except that they had a very high powered method of salesmanship. The money acquired by this financing was to be used for advertising purposes and to build up a selling organization, also to add to the products produced by the company. Company was placed in receiver's hands in 1923. At receiver's sale on January 12, 1924, Leon S. Miller of New York, head of the Lewis County Condensed Milk Company, purchased the Booneville, N. Y., plant for $50,000. The milk feeding stations at Fernwood, Altman and Mapleview, New York, were Rowe Alaska Company, The. Incorporated under the laws of New York State on Dec. 16, 1903, for the purpose of prospecting and developing about 3,000 acres of property located on the Seward Peninsula on Norton Bay, a few miles from Council in the western part of Alaska. The capital stock was $1,500,000 authorized with a par value of $1. We understand that no dividends were ever paid on the stock. About 200,000 shares of the stock were sold at par and we are informed that $75,000 worth of machinery was installed, the payment for same, being made part in cash and part in capital stock. We are advised that the glaciers which covered the property of this company prevented any very extensive development and consequently all operations were discontinued a number of years ago. The last officers of the company were reported in 1909 as follows: William H. Rowe, president; Lewis M. Seegee, secretary. Directors: Henry R. Frost, A. H. Rissam, Ellis L. Phillips, Joseph E. Dey, Guy S. Rowe, F. C. Peck, Voltaire Combe, Charles W. Russell, N. G. Fagundus. Company had an office in New York at 50 Church St. until 1909, when that was abandoned, and company evidently has not been in operation in this city since 1907, when taxes amounting to only 83 cents were paid to the state treasurer.

Selma, Rome & Dalton Railroad. Organized August 8, 1866, as a reorganization of the Alabama & Tennessee Rivers Railroad organized on March 4, 1848. Property consisted of a line of road (236 miles) from Selma, Alabama, to Dalton, Georgia, together with a land grant of 481,920 acres by Act of Congress dated June 3, 1856. The authorized capital stock was $5,000,000 of which $4,000,000 was issued and the indebtedness consisted of $5,000,000 first mortgage 7's due 1887; $4,000,000 second mortgage 7's due 1890; $230,000 equipment or income 10 per cent. bonds due 1881, and in addition there were about $600,000 prior liens of the Alabama Tennessee River Railroad and $615,837 receivers certificates. Construction of the road was delayed by the outbreak of the Civil War and in 1865 the company was placed in the hands of a receiver and reorganized as the Selma, Rome & Dalton Railroad. During 1872 the earnings were not sufficient to meet fixed charges and about 1873 the Selma, Rome & Dalton Railroad was placed in the hands of a receiver. The property including land grant was ordered by a chancery decree of March 24, 1874, to be sold and proceeds distributed according to priority of claims. To sum up the court's decision in figures, it seems that the mortgages of the original road—the Alabama & Tennessee River Railroad Company—amounted to about $600,000 and were decided to be prior liens on the properties. After these prior mortgages there were $615,837 receivers certificates. The foreclosure sale took place on June 14, 1880, and the price paid was said to be about $1,500,000 and we understand that the Alabama & Tennessee River Railroad bondholders and the Selma, Rome & Dalton Railroad receiver certificate holders got whatever benefit there was from this sale. At the time it was claimed by the junior bondholders committee that there was collusion between the buyers and the sellers of the property at foreclosure and a writ of error was obtained under which proceeds of the sale were held subject to a decision of the Supreme Court on equity. In 1882, George P. West of New York represented the junior committee in the fight with the Georgia courts and legal attempts were made to perpetuate the testimony. The East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad organized in 1869 acquired a large part of the Selma, Rome & Dalton Railroad at the foreclosure sale of June 14, 1881, and on July 1, 1886, the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railway Company was formed and took over the property of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad. On June 24, 1892, the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia Railway was placed in the hands of a receiver and on July 7, 1894, sold under foreclosure to the South Railway Co. Occasionally there is a speculative demand for the old bonds of the Selma, Rome and Dalton Railroad based on a claim of alleged collusion between the buyers of the land and the railroad. The following sales are reported at auctions: May, 1903, $10,000 par second mortgage bonds at $2 the lot; June, 1905, $5,000 par second mortgage with $10,000 other bonds for $11 the lot.

Capital stock authorized and outstanding $1,000,000 8 per cent. cumulative preferred and $2,500,000 common. Shares $100 par. All the stock was owned by the Siegel Stores Corporation. Funded debt outstanding consisted of $1,435,000 (authorized $1,500,000) real estate and collateral trust 6 per cent. gold bonds, dated 1904, due January 15, 1929. Nearly all the bonds issued were owned by the Siegel Stores Corporation. Officers: H. Siegel, president; J. R. Butler, vice-president; F. E. Vogel, secretary and treasurer; Oscar A. Prall, assistant secretary and treasurer. On June 4, 1910, the Simpson Securities Company consolidated with the Simpson Crawford Company to form a company under the latter name the purpose being to do away with an unnecessary holding company, the Securities Company having held the stock of the Simpson-Crawford Company. Practically all the stock of the latter company was held by the Siegel Stores Corporation after the consolidation. Capital stock of the new company was $1,400,000 (all one class of stock) par $100. The real estate and collateral trust 6 per cent. gold bonds due January 15, 1929 became a liability of the Simpson-Crawford Company on its merger with the Simpson Securities Company. On April 2, 1914, the Simpson-Crawford Corporation was incorporated in New York to acquire the assets of the Simpson-Crawford Company. This corporation announced on April 8, 1915 that the corporation was to go into voluntary liquidation. Business was closed on June 12, 1915, and the merchandise stock of the corporation was sold to Gimbel Bros. on June 22, 1915. The reason given for this action was that the business had been carried on at a loss during the year of the corporation's existence and that it was not fair to the creditors of the old Simpson-Crawford Company who advanced money to the company, to carry on the business with the possibility of further loss. On June 28, 1916, the Equitable Trust Company of New York published a statement that they would distribute to holders of the 6 per cent. bonds their pro rata share of the cash balance in the sinking fund; amounting to $76.50 per $1,000 bond on presentation of bonds at their office, 11 Broad Street. If the bond held by you does not show the endorsement of this payment thereon it should be presented to the trustee for that purpose.

Smithtown Assembly Hall Association. This Association is located at Smithtown, Long Island, and was not organized as a profitable undertaking. Its purpose was to provide a meeting place for the residents of Smithtown and it was leased at a nominal rental to the Smithtown Association which made certain local uses for the same. The Association has recently turned the property back to the Smithtown Assembly Hall Association and the directors of the Association are trying to dispose of the property and dissolve the Association. Residents of Smithtown state that it is impossible to say what can be realized for the property and what the stockholders will get, if anything, in dissolution and that they doubt very seriously if anything will be paid for the capital stock. It will take a year or more to sell the property and liquidate the assets. There are no sales or quotations reported of the stock and in view of the rather indefinite situation, so far as the stockholders are concerned, we do not believe these shares should be valued at more than a nominal figure as of May 14, 1926.

Company was organized under the laws of Maine on October 21, 1909, as a successor to the Newhouse Mines and Smelters, the property of which was sold under foreclosure following default in bond interest and in the reorganization old shareholders were assessed $1 per share and received new stock in exchange for old, share for share. The authorized capital stock of the new company was $4,300,000, of which $3,381,000 was issued, par value $5 each; also $1,300,000 outstanding 6 per cent. 20 year income bonds, upon which interest was payable only if earned out of net profits of the year's quotations. Property idle and no interest paid. Operations were carried on at full capacity until April, 1914, at which time the ore was exhausted and the property was closed down. On February 17, 1921, the stockholders voted to sell all property and thereafter company sold as opportunity offered and finally in September, 1922, what remained of the plant and building was sold. In 1924, the assets consisted of about $75,000 cash and $40,000 United States Government securities against which there were outstanding $905,000 income bonds. The capital stock was listed on the New York Curb and the Boston Stock Exchange, the market being as follows: (Boston Exchange), 1920, high, .03, low, .00¼; 1921, high, .12, low, .04; 1922, high, .10, low, .02. Following sales took place at auction in N. Y. C.: 1914, April 4, 1,200 shares at $100 the lot; 1924, November 22, 700 shares at $1 the lot. On February 7, 1923, the stock was removed from the Boston Stock Exchange, the last quotations there being 3 cents bid, 10 cents asked. In February, 1926, Donald Friedman & Co., brokers of New York City, were offering the stock at 10 cents a share with no bids reported. At the present time the company has an office at 165 Broadway, New York City, where we are informed that the financial conditions of the company are as follows: Cash on hand, $55,000; land, $25,000; total, $80,000. Against which there are $905,000 outstanding income bonds which have a lien prior to the $3,381,000 capital stock outstanding. In view of this information and the sales made at auction, we think it fair to think that the stock is valueless.

Spokane Valley and Northern Ry. Co. Common, par $1.00. This railway was incorporated under the laws of Washington on August 7, 1917, with a capitalization of stock outstanding of $1,750,000 common shares of a par of $1.00 each. Company also had authorized and issued $500,000 first mortgage Sinking Fund Serial Gold Bonds due August 1, 1922, with interest payable February first and August first. $250,000 of these bonds were sold to stockholders interested in the company and the remaining $250,000 were first publicly offered in 1917 by H. C. Chambers & Co. and A. D. O'Neil & Co. The reason for the building of this road was, we understand, to give the American Mineral Production Co. an economical outlet for its production of calcine and crude mannesite. The American Mineral Production Co. had previously been paying $4.50 a ton for transportation by motor trucks and wagons, and it was supposed that with a long time contract with the American Mineral Production Co. the railway could transport for $1.00 a ton thereby saving thousands of dollars for the Production company. However, these plans evidently did not mature as well as it was hoped they would for we do not locate any quotation of stock after 1922 when on February 2, 250 shares were offered at market with no bids. On July 1, 1924, this company was stricken from the records of the State of Washington for failure to pay license fees and it has since had no legal corporate existence.
